

San Fransisco Bay Times - April 15, 2004

Screen Gems in Hard Economic Times

Festival groupies look at the SF International Film Festival

(...)

Four-and-a-half hours is one long documentary, but Route 181 speaks volumes that needs to be heard. Palestinian director Michel Khleifi and Eyal Sivan from Israel set out on the road which traces the suggested UN 1947 partition line dividing historic Palestine into a Jewish state. Along the way, unimaginable characters tell their stories and allow us to imagine a past, present and future for the region.

(...)